Training Workshop

Entrepreneurship and Women's Entrepreneurship

Entrepreneurship is within reach, whether you want to build your own business, create jobs or develop innovative solutions to local challenges. For women, entrepreneurship can also be a powerful pathway to economic independence and leadership.

This interactive training program specifically designed for BCDI 2030 Scholars will help you turn ideas into action by developing the skills, knowledge and confidence to build an entrepreneurial project of your own. Over four online sessions, offered in French and English you will:

- Explore entrepreneurship and women's entrepreneurship as pathways to business creation and economic opportunity in the African context.
- Discover key components of a business plan.
- Understand the potential impact of an entrepreneurial project.
- Develop the tools and skills needed to present your entrepreneurial project with confidence.

Upon completion of all four sessions, you will have the option of accessing personalized coaching sessions to receive individualized support and guidance in developing and implementing your business plan in home country.

Why participate?

Build the skills and knowledge needed to develop your entrepreneurial project.

Learn to build and maintain a professional network.
