

Training workshop

The Authentic Leader !

Leadership matters more than ever in a complex, interconnected and uncertain world. And while some people may seem like natural leaders, effective leadership is a skill that can be developed through experience, reflection and practice.

This interactive training series is designed specifically for BCDI 2030 Scholars. Through five two-hour online workshops, you will explore different aspects of leadership and develop practical tools to lead with confidence, authenticity and purpose.

- Discover your leadership style and identify your core leadership characteristics.
- Build confidence as a leader.
- Develop practical and collaborative communication strategies for leading in diverse cultural, professional and regional contexts.
- Learn practical approaches to managing change and conflict with confidence and good judgment.
- Explore women's perspectives on organizational leadership and management and the important role women play in shaping workplaces and organizations.

Why participate?

Better understand your leadership strengths and style.

Build practical skills to lead with confidence and authenticity.

Strengthen your communication and collaboration skills.

Learn how to navigate change and conflict effectively.

Visit the BCDI 2030 Scholars' platform, Connect to learn about upcoming sessions and register.

For any questions, please contact info@BCDI2030.ca.